

Senate Starts Off Debate On Trade Measure

Tariff Bill Under Hot Fire Of GOP

Washington, Sept. 7 (AP)—The Senate came up today to the start of debate (11 a. m. EST) on the sharply contested Reciprocal Trade Agreements Bill.

Passage of this measure is one of the more urgent demands President Truman has made of his Senate leaders. It passed the House by a 319 to 69 margin in February but barely squeaked through the Senate Finance Committee, 7 to 6, last March.

The measure would extend to June 12, 1951 the president's authority to make international agreements raising or lowering American tariffs. It is under hot fire from Republicans.

Administration lieutenants said they will resist any efforts to compromise on a GOP proposal to write into the bill a so-called "repeal" provision. They have the president's orders to fight it out on this line.

Such a provision would direct the tariff commission to point out when it believed proposed tariff cuts would damage American industry. The president could go ahead with rate reductions in such cases, but would have to explain to Congress why he took such action.

The president's appointment of former Senator J. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island as attorney general removed from the Senate one of the few influential Democrats who had expressed public willingness to compromise on this point with the Republicans.

Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Finance Committee, who will pilot the measure through the Senate, has opposed any such compromise.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the party's Senate leader, called a conference of all Democrats for tomorrow to check over his team defenses.

Report On Riot Sent To Dewey

Robeson Concert And Fight Investigated

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 7 (AP)—The Westchester county district attorney today blamed teen-agers for most of the violence that followed the Paul Robeson concert near Peekskill Sunday.

At the same time the prosecutor, George M. Fanelli, in a preliminary report to Governor Dewey, inferentially denied the contention of Negro baritone Robeson that state and Westchester county police had attacked concert-goers.

Fanelli complimented all the law enforcement officials assigned to the concert area. He said "they accomplished an insuperable job of preventing fatalities."

Fanelli told the governor his investigation indicated that "most of the damage and trouble came from teen-agers who had no connection with veteran groups" that paraded near the concert area in protest against what Dewey himself had termed a "pro-Communist" meeting.

FANATIC KILLS 13—Howard Unruh, a Bible-carrying war veteran described as a near-religious fanatic, is shown with police in Camden, N. J., after he had shot and killed 13 persons and wounded three others. (NEA Telephoto)

Bible Reader Held For Gun Murder Of 13 At Camden, N. J.

Camden, N. J., Sept. 7 (AP)—Psychiatrists today questioned Howard Unruh, 28-year-old war veteran who massacred 13 persons on River Road.

Twelve—five men, five women and two children—were killed yesterday as the silent, methodical Unruh put his "preconceived plan into execution." Three others—a woman and two youths—were wounded.

The 13th, John Wilson, 10, died this morning at Cooper hospital, where Unruh underwent an unsuccessful operation for the removal of a bullet from his hip.

Prosecutor Mitchell Cohen said Unruh's wound is not serious and that he is able to undergo extensive questioning by mental health experts.

Should the psychiatrists find that Unruh was sane, Cohen said he will press for an immediate Grand Jury indictment, early trial and death by electrocution, the penalty for murder in New Jersey. Unruh already has been charged with murder.

The prosecutor told newsmen that Unruh, a Bible-reading war veteran with an "arsenal of weapons," said in his statement yesterday that he killed because of "resentment against his neighbors."

Cohen said Unruh listed four shopkeepers as his intended victims: druggist Maurice Cohen, 40; shoemaker John Pilcharik, 27; barber Clark Hoover, 33, and tailor Thomas Zegrino, 29.

He got Cohen, Pilcharik and Hoover. Zegrino escaped because he wasn't in his shop when Unruh walked in carrying his German Luger pistol. Unruh stalked to the rear of the shop and killed Zegrino's bride of a month.

But, in addition to those four,

Tipsy Yanks Kill German At Mainz

Frankfurt, Germany, Sept. 7 (AP)—One German was killed and another seriously beaten by an intoxicated group of American infantrymen assigned to current war maneuvers on the Rhine, U. S. authorities reported today.

Five soldiers of the First Division are under arrest pending further investigation of the violence at Mainz, a French zone city on the west bank of the Rhine two nights ago.

U. S. Air Force police, who took the soldiers into custody, said a waiter on a docked Rhine boat was found dead of wounds after he had been assaulted.

Another German was beaten on a Mainz street and a third was killed in the railway station. German and French police called the U. S. Air Force to help subdue the soldiers.

Violence Breaks Out Again In Picket Line At Buffalo Factory

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 7 (AP)—Picket line violence broke out again today in the 13-week old Bell Aircraft strike when hundreds of union sympathizers staged a rally of support at the plant.

At least five employees were injured by club-wielding demonstrators when they tried to pass the augmented picket line at the plant in suburban Wheatfield near Niagara Falls.

Comparatively few Bell workers were able to pass the closely formed picket lines.

About 500 men turned out for the rally, called by a United Labor Defense Committee to support the strike of CIO United Auto Workers Local 501.

Shirley Wants To Swim Tough Channel Again

Homecoming Planned At Somerset, Mass.

By ALVIN STEINOFF
Dover, Eng., Sept. 7 (AP)—Shirley May France, red-eyed, string-haired and tired, said today she will have another try at swimming the English channel.

"It beat me yesterday, but I am sure I can get across next time," said the 17-year-old Somerset, Mass., schoolgirl.

She does not know when "next time" will be, but it may be in a year or two.

Shirley May was pulled out of the water yesterday afternoon after she had tried courageously for 10½ hours to swim from France to England.

She was hauled out at a point estimated to be six miles from her goal, a very cold, but determined girl.

She protested violently at this. Her shouts of "no, no," rang out over the waves.

Beaten By Waves
"I am very disappointed," Shirley May said after a warm bath and shampoo to take the grease out of her hair. "It was the first five hours of the swim that beat me."

"Those awful, chopping waves washed the grease from my shoulders and after that, of course, I got cold quickly."

The temperature of the water was never above the low sixties and in some frigid currents might have been under 60 degrees, her handlers said.

The girl's immediate concern is to get home as promptly as possible. The school term at Somerset started yesterday.

The blonde girl swimmer has become the darling of the little Dover street that faces on the sea. Folks here like her and they gathered by the dozens on the little lawn in front of her hotel.

Her landlady kissed her then chased away new friends who said.

Bears Pay Visit To Traverse City

Traverse City, Mich., Sept. 7 (AP)—Elizabeth Westman, a tourist cabin employee, took the day off yesterday to go berry picking. Instead she found bears.

She told police there were four of them—a mother bear and three cubs.

Her bear story, as told to police: She found a berry patch in a woods inside the city limits, only about a mile and a half from the business district. Looking up, she saw four bears.

She made tracks toward the police station and a fleeing game backward, much to her relief, told her the bears were making tracks equally as fast in the opposite direction.

Bears are not unusual in these parts. But they generally stay in the swamp country at least 15 miles from the city.

Sen. Dulles Decides To Run This Fall

Washington, Sept. 7 (AP)—Senator John Foster Dulles (R-N.Y.) said today he would "gladly accept" the Republican nomination to run for the Senate in this fall's special New York election.

New York Republican leaders have been pressing Dulles to make the race.

Former Governor Herbert Lehman has announced he will accept the Democratic nomination if it is offered.

The contest is to fill the unexpired term of Senator Robert F. Wagner, Democrat, who resigned.

Kaiser-Frazer Corp. Sued For 5 Million By Auto Designer

Los Angeles, Sept. 7 (AP)—An inventor is suing Kaiser-Frazer Corp. for $5,000,000.

The plaintiff, Ellis White of Beverly Hills, charges the company violated a confidence in using his blue prints for a dual purpose automobile body.

White, who filed his suit yesterday, also asked an accounting of all Kaiser-Frazer's profits.

Ford And Chrysler Try To Avert Strike

Detroit, Sept. 7 (AP)—After a long Labor Day recess wage and pension negotiations were resumed today in the auto industry.

Ford and Chrysler, each facing a strike possibility, returned to talks with the CIO United Auto Workers. The negotiations had been recessed since last week.

The UAW went into the Ford talks with President Walter Reuther authorized to serve a five-day strike notice in event there is no progress.

Britain Makes Plea For U.S. Aid To Ward Off Financial Crash

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Sept. 7 (AP)—Britain's foreign policy and economic chief arrived today for talks with the United States and Canada on the British dollar crisis.

Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Stafford Cripps came by train from New York where their ship docked last night. They reached Washington at 6:10 a. m. (EST).

Bevin described the three-power conference as a means "to win the struggle for one world, one world of free and democratic peoples."

In three power talks starting in a fifth floor conference room at the state department at 11 a. m. EST the British leaders are expected to seek American agreement to speed up spending of dollars for strategic materials such as tin and rubber.

At the same time they want to relax a 1946 Anglo-American loan agreement provision so that Britain can increase discrimination against buying American goods.

These and other measures, which American officials are expected to receive sympathetically,

Drouth Ends In Spain; Hail Damage Heavy

Madrid, Sept. 7 (AP)—Heavy rain and hail storms raging through central Spain caused widespread damage as the region's long drought came to an end.

Egg-sized hailstones fell in Madrid, breaking windows and slate shingles. Sigüenza, 40 miles to the north, reported some stones weighed nearly a half pound.

Trains were long delayed. Some lines were completely disrupted by flooded tracks. The Madrid subway system halted operations for a half hour last night while water was pumped out.

Kenneth E. Sager, son of Mrs. Inez Sager, Route 1, Wakefield, Mich., was the victim.

The 20-year-old Wakefield native was on a sailboat with two other Americans when it capsized on a Bavarian lake last Wednesday.

He was the only American on board when it capsized on a Bavarian lake last Wednesday.

Detroiters Dodge Marquette Prison Pair In Wild Ride

Detroit, Sept. 7 (AP)—A Detroit woman told today of a wild auto flight at midnight in the Upper Peninsula from two men believed to be fugitive prison convicts.

Since Monday night state police have blockaded the area in an effort to trap Sam Leib, 36, and Henry Shelton, 40.

Leib, convicted murderer serving a life term, and Shelton, bank robber, disappeared from the Marquette branch state prison.

State police of the Upper Peninsula were said here to believe they were the same pair who terrorized a Detroit family group in their car shortly after midnight Monday.

The incident was disclosed here by Mrs. Charles Tuffley, who had been visiting with her family in the Upper Peninsula.

The group was driving from Hancock the same night that Leib and Shelton vanished from the prison.

On a remote spot near Ten Points, Mrs. Tuffley said, an "old, red car" tried to block their automobile.

Mrs. Mrs. Tuffley were her brother, Arne Leinonen, 46; a sister, Mrs. Effie Purcer, and Mrs. Tuffley's children, Charles, 11; David, 6, and Janet, 4.

The children were asleep in the back seat. Leinonen was driving.

The men in the other car "flashed their lights at us, blinding us, and swung their car across the road," Mrs. Tuffley said.

Her brother, she said, swerved his car off the road, circled the other machine, and raced away down the highway.

"We drove like mad for half an hour before we came to a place where we could notify the state police," Mrs. Tuffley said.

Twice earlier in the night Mrs. Tuffley said their car had been stopped by state police in the road blockade.

Afterwards, at St. Ignace, Leinonen was said to have been told by the police that the latter were convinced the pair were the fugitives, evidently in search of clothes, money and a better car.

Hurricane Hung Up In Atlantic

Storm Moves Slowly South Of Bermuda

Miami, Fla., Sept. 7 (AP)—An immense hurricane, its course still uncertain, drifted slowly northward in the open Atlantic today.

The Miami weather bureau said the forward movement of the "large and severe hurricane" was still slow and erratic but probably toward the northeast at five to six miles an hour.

The gigantic disturbance was about 900 miles east of Palm Beach, Fla., and 390 miles south of Bermuda. It packed winds of 120 to 130 miles per hour near the center and winds of hurricane force—75 miles per hour or more—over an area 125 to 150 miles in diameter.

Grady Norton, chief storm forecaster of the Miami weather bureau, said the storm apparently had started a "very very slow drift to the east or perhaps east northeast."

If that movement continues, Bermuda should feel only the fringe or perhaps none at all of the hurricane, he said.

The British-owned Honeymoon Islands, 600 miles off the South Carolina coast and 687 miles southeast of New York, remained on the alert. Military planes were evacuated two days ago and all military personnel recalled to bases.

Missing were her husband, Carl, 29, an engineer, and Louis D. McQuessan, and his wife, Clarence, 22, both of Chicago. The two couples had left in Neitzel's boat Sunday morning for a trip to Michigan City, Ind.

Coast Guardsmen said Mrs. Neitzel's body was bruised and bloody. A life jacket was strapped about her and she was lashed to the forward mast of the two-masted yawl. They said her husband, and the MaQuessans apparently were swept overboard by wind or waves, or were drowned when the sail boat went down at the stern after being swamped by waves.

Pilot Rides Burning Mustang 12 Miles Before Bailing Out

Manchester, N. H., Sept. 7 (AP)—An air force pilot rode his F-51 Mustang 12 miles while flames licked along the fuselage and finally into the cockpit, forcing him to bail out 300 yards from Grenier field air force runway yesterday.

The pilot, Lt. Colin J. N. Chauvet, an overseas veteran from Bay City, Mich., landed unhurt in a pasture several hundred yards from the spot where his plane crashed and burned.

Air force officials said Chauvet was on a routine flight when the engine caught fire. He parachuted from what air force officials described as dangerously low altitude of 700 feet.

Party Leaders Think Truman Will Run Again

Taft And Stassen Also Prospects

By JACK BELL

Washington, Sept. 7 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is talking so much like a Republican that some Washington office holders are beginning to think he may have his eye on the 1952 GOP presidential nomination.

Despite Eisenhower's recent assertion he hasn't the slightest interest in such a nomination, Senator Ives (R-N.Y.) told a reporter he won't be surprised if the general's name is put before the next party nominating convention.

Tough Opposition
Agreeing, Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) said he thinks Eisenhower would provide tough opposition to anyone the Democrats nominate.

Along with many others in Congress, Sparkman said he is beginning to believe that President Truman will be a candidate for another term.

The president hasn't said anything publicly about his plans. Lawmakers said that in private conversations he has left the door open to the possibility that he might run again, particularly if Congress doesn't enact his social welfare program before the next presidential election.

Eisenhower's Labor Day speech to the American Bar association in St. Louis is regarded widely here as tallying closely with the line of middle of the road Republicans who oppose what they call a welfare state but who don't want to go back to the days of Mark Hanna.

Politicians noted particularly the general's assertion that the future of America "lies down the middle of the road between concentrated wealth on one flank and the unbridled power of statism on the other."

Along with his previous opposition to federal aid to education—which he said would put the government into that field—this statement has put Eisenhower on the side of the Republicans who have been criticizing what they call Mr. Truman's swing toward big government.

Senator Faces Battle
In contrast, Mr. Truman defended his program against charges that it would lead to "collectivism," "statism" or to a "welfare state." He said the measures he

State Ferries On Autumn Schedule Starting Sept. 13

The fall schedule of the Michigan State Ferries, operating across the Straits of Mackinac between Mackinaw City and St. Ignace, will go into effect Sept. 13.

Highway Commissioner Charles M. Zigler announced.

The schedule will be effective through November 6, 1949. It will provide 1½ hour departures from Mackinaw City between 6:00 a. m. and 10:30 p. m., with additional departures at 1:30 a. m., and 4:30 a. m. There will be 1½ hour departures from St. Ignace between 6:00 a. m. and midnight with an additional boat at 3:00 a. m. The schedule will require the use of two vessels. Additional departures will be provided when warranted by traffic. Following is the schedule:

LEAVE MACKINAW CITY

6:00 a. m.	4:30 p. m.
7:30 a. m.	6:30 p. m.
9:00 a. m.	7:30 p. m.
10:30 a. m.	9:30 p. m.
12:00 noon	10:30 p. m.
1:30 p. m.	1:30 a. m.
3:00 p. m.	4:30 a. m.

LEAVE ST. IGNACE

6:00 a. m.	4:30 p. m.
7:30 a. m.	6:30 p. m.
9:00 a. m.	7:30 p. m.
10:30 a. m.	9:00 p. m.
12:00 noon	10:30 p. m.
1:30 p. m.	12 midnight
3:00 p. m.	3:00 a. m.

Radio telephones have been installed on the four ferries as a safety measure to protect the vessels from possibility of collision during fog, or sleet and snow storms, Commissioner Zigler said.

Although the telephones have a range that will permit ferry crews to contact other ships as far away as 200 miles, the installation of the new equipment was carried out primarily for use in the Straits area, so that the state vessels can keep in close contact with each other, the ferry offices and vessels passing through the Straits passages. The state ferries pass directly across the lanes used by other ships in the Straits.

As soon as the state ferries leave their docks on either side of the Straits, the officer in charge of the ship reports this information, stating when the ferry will cross the regular ship channels. The other ships in the area receive the message and call back reporting their position and the direction in which they are going, and the time they will cross the ferry channel. In this way the various ships in the area know what the state ferries are doing and vice versa and the respective positions of the ships. Such information will greatly reduce the possibility of collision during periods when visibility is poor in the Straits.

Blazing Philadelphia Building Collapses, Starts 15 New Fires

Philadelphia, Sept. 7. (AP)—The walls of a blazing seven-story building buckled and collapsed today hurling flames and embers high into the air and setting fire to buildings as far as three blocks from the scene.

Flying embers started fires in 15 establishments in the heart of the city's business district—hotels, restaurants, warehouses.

Most were roof top blazes which quickly were put out by firemen using hand extinguishers.

Six firemen were hurt, none seriously.

The fire, in a vacant building being torn down on Sansom street in the midtown area four blocks from city hall, was discovered shortly before 9 a. m. (EST).

In rapid-fire succession, four alarms called more than 40 pieces of apparatus to the area.

An hour later, firemen said they had the blaze under control.

But it burst out anew with a roar that could be heard for many blocks. Huge sections of wall crashed into the street. Chunks of blazing wood flew through the air to land on rooftops of other buildings.

The neighboring St. Francis hotel caught fire, forcing 45 guests to leave the building. A small fire also broke out on the roof of the St. James hotel, three blocks away. It was quickly extinguished.

proposed were for the public good and he didn't care what his opponents called them.

If Eisenhower should enter or be pushed into the Republican nomination race, most observers here at this early stage force a three-way contest between him, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio and former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota.

It will be a case of two college presidents against a Senator since Eisenhower heads Columbia university and Stassen is president of the University of Pennsylvania.

Taft will be battling for his political life in next year's senatorial campaign in Ohio. If he is re-elected despite everything organized labor can do to defeat him, his friends predict he will make his fourth try for the GOP presidential nomination.

Another 1950 Senate race of special importance will be one for the seat now held by Senator Dulles (R-NY). Dulles was appointed by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to succeed Senator Wagner (D-NY) who resigned.

Dulles has not said whether he will contend for the nomination to succeed himself. However, he called a news conference today (10 a. m. EST) and an aide said beforehand he might discuss the New York senatorial race.

Villages Retaken By Chinese Army

Canton, Sept. 7. (AP)—The National defense ministry today claimed recapture of several villages from Communist forces driving toward the Canton-Hankow railroad from Hucheng, 170 miles south of Canton.

The ministry's announcement said ground was recovered up to a point to 20 miles west of Jucheng. That would place the fighting halfway between Jucheng and the railroad.

Chinese news dispatches said a small force of Nationalist militiamen created a diversion by a Guerrilla-like raid on Jucheng itself.

Five Communist divisions were reported preparing to attack Anjen, 40 miles east of Hengyang, some 120 miles northwest of Jucheng.

Liquor Commission's Position Reversed On Discharge Of Kunzig

Lansing, Sept. 7. (AP)—The State Civil Service commission, completing a hearing into the dismissal of Louis A. Kunzig as State Liquor Control commission executive director, said it would decide the case later today.

The hearing was featured by an unexpected reversal of the liquor commission's position.

Assistant Attorney General Martin L. Leacock, counsel for the liquor commission, said that the Civil Service commission had no authority to prevent the liquor commission from abolishing Kunzig's job. Previously, the liquor commission had asked Civil Service to permit it to abolish the position.

Newark Millionaire Gives Away 23 Homes To His Women Tenants

Newark, N. J., Sept. 7. (AP)—The late Wilbur R. Driver, millionaire philanthropist who preferred to be known only as "Mr. X," has bequeathed 23 homes to the women tenants of the buildings.

The will, admitted to probate yesterday, stipulated women as beneficiaries so that "they should have a measure of independence."

The East Orange industrialist made a fortune in metal alloys. He died Aug. 23. Most of his numerous charities were given anonymously, and he became known as "Mr. X" by grateful recipients.

Manistique Bridge Repairs Completed

The state highway department has completed repairs to the bridge on US-2 which carries traffic through the Manistique river at Manistique. It was announced today by Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler.

The bridge is unique because its roadway is below the water level of the river. Reinforced concrete bridge railings act as a dam to raise the river level to provide an adequate supply of water for use by a Manistique paper mill. The bridge is composed of eight spans totaling 292 feet in length and received nationwide publicity in the late Robert Ripley's "Believe it or Not" column.

The highway department also announced completion of bituminous aggregate surfacing on a Menominee county road east from Hermansville. The work was done by the Menominee road commission at a cost of $14,088.

Another Menominee county road, from Falthorn northeast, was surfaced with bituminous aggregate at a cost of $16,187; and a third with similar surfacing on a Menominee county road from Carney east at a cost $36,033.

St. Louis, Sept. 7. (AP)—Vice President Barkley and his attractive friend, Mrs. Carlton S. Hadley, danced last night—but not until photographers were twice escorted from a hotel ballroom.

The news photographers were ordered out of the Hotel Chase ballroom after objections were raised over picture taking.

"I have asked that there be no pictures taken while we dance," Barkley said after photographers were escorted out for the second time.

Barkley came to St. Louis Sunday. He was greeted at the airport by Mrs. Hadley. Rumors of a romance between Barkley, a 71-year-old widower, and Mrs. Hadley, 37-year-old widow, have persisted. Friends say they definitely have not discussed marriage plans.

The vice president plans to leave today for Springfield, Ill., where he has a speaking engagement.

American Youths Not Freed By Russians

Berlin, Sept. 7. (AP)—American authorities had "no new word" today on any Russian plans to release two American youths held in the Soviet zone since July.

TOWN GIVES CLAMBAKE

Somerset, Mass., Sept. 7. (AP)—This town will throw a clambake for Shirley May France even though she didn't swim the channel.

The 17-year-old schoolgirl, who was beaten yesterday by the tides, will be feted just as though she had been successful.

There will be a big parade the Saturday after she returns to this small community—then the clambake.

"I think she would have made it if they hadn't pulled her from the water," said her disappointed mother, Mrs. J. Walter France, a factory worker.

The girl had hoped that a victory over the channel would bring funds to build a new house for the family. The small cottage they now occupy has no running water.

Noise Irks Neighbors, Reveals Woman Slain In Back Seat Of Auto

Allentown, Pa., Sept. 7. (AP)—District Attorney Kenneth Kock said today a slaying was discovered and solved in short order when a man made too much noise trying to put his car in the garage with his victim in the back seat.

Kock said Robert Shupp, 40-year-old unemployed accountant, signed a statement that he shot and killed Marian Walek, 33, silk mill worker of Weissport, Pa., in a fit of jealousy last night.

The district attorney gave the following version of events:

Shupp met Miss Walek at Lehigh, Pa., yesterday afternoon and drove with her to a lonely road near Allentown. There he shot her three times with a .38 calibre revolver.

With her body in the back seat, Shupp drove to his Allentown rooming house, took an hour-long nap and then drove around the city again. About 10 p. m. (EST) he tried to put the car in the garage, but made so much noise that neighbors called police. Discovery of the body and Shupp's arrest followed.

Finnish Red Unions Given Ultimatum To Call Off Walkouts

Helsinki, Finland, Sept. 7. (AP)—Finland's Trade Union Federation (TUF), in a move last night to halt Communist-led strikes, gave seven unions the choice of obeying TUF orders against the walkouts or being expelled from the federation.

The federation's expulsion ultimatum went to five striking, Communist-dominated unions of lumbermen, transport workers, building workers, masons and truck drivers, and to two organizations of woodworkers and food workers who recently withdrew a strike call.

The strike wave which began last month has been interpreted by government leaders as an attempt to set the stage for a Communist coup to seize the government.

Ferry Traffic Steadily Climbing

FERRY travel across the Straits of Mackinac this year will be 64 per cent above the pre-war level, it has been estimated by the state highway department. In view of this condition, the state will take bids on September 27 on a new ice-breaking ferry, which will be ready for service in 15 to 18 months.

A new dock will be needed to accommodate the new ice breaker, however, which poses another problem that must be solved before the ferry bottleneck at the Straits can be broken.

Two groups of legislators were invited to study the traffic situation at the Straits over the Labor Day weekend, traditionally a peak of the travelling season, and to examine proposed sites for the new dock. One of the proposed sites is the state causeway below St. Ignace.

Present dock facilities in St. Ignace are too crowded now, according to Speaker Victor Knox of Sault Ste. Marie, creating congestion in the St. Ignace business district. Speaker Knox apparently favors improvement of present dock facilities in St. Ignace although it is not clear just how expanded dock facilities in St. Ignace would eliminate the congestion in the city's business area.

The causeway site, according to Knox, is unfavorable because of an estimate that it would require $10,000,000 to construct adequate facilities there.

The fact that so much attention is being directed these days to the Straits traffic problem is encouraging to Upper Peninsula residents particularly. It provides hope that state officials will recognize the urgency of the problem and act accordingly to break a traffic jam that has long restrained the Northern Peninsula of Michigan from attaining its potentialities in commerce and travel with the main portion of the state.

Truman's Labor Day Speeches

PRESIDENT TRUMAN made two major speeches on Labor Day, one at Pittsburgh directed to labor groups in which he pledged continuance of a fight to repeal the Taft-Hartley act, and the other at Des Moines, directed to farm groups, in which he predicted congressional approval of the Brannan farm subsidy plan.

The millions of people who heard Mr. Truman's radio speeches Monday must have wondered if Mr. Truman was once again engaged in a red hot political campaign. He continued his castigation of the 80th congress from where he left off in the presidential election campaign last November. And he talked about "selfish interests" aligned against the administration program. He gave a neat pat on the back to the 81st congress which is dominated by the president's party.

President Truman's Labor Day speeches were somewhat surprising. The repeal of the Taft-Hartley act was proposed to the 81st congress, but the congress rejected the idea completely. The Brannan farm plan likewise was presented to the 81st congress and the secretary of agriculture was denied even an experimental run on one or two commodities.

It is readily apparent that Mr. Truman's castigation of the 80th congress is prompted entirely by the fact that the 80th congress was Republican-dominated, and his defense of the 81st congress likewise is promoted by the fact that it is dominated by the Democratic party. Surely Mr. Truman does not think that he is kidding anyone into believing that the administration and the 81st congress see eye-to-eye on important domestic issues of the day. The record speaks entirely for itself on that point, and the results are anything but flattering to the president.

Mr. Truman's Labor Day speeches were, of course, entirely political. They were designed to lure more labor votes and more farm votes to the Democratic candidates in the 1950 election.

Why Not This, Too?

I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

All over the country, in every public school, small and large, millions of boys and girls are repeating this pledge at the opening of the 1949 school season. It's a good way to start the day in the land of the free, where liberty and justice really do prevail.

But why not go one step farther? While teaching reading, writing and arithmetic, why not take teachers' and pupils' time out for, say, five minutes a day, to teach the basic principles of morality common to all creeds and faiths and peoples?

Why not teach all boys and girls, in school as well as out, to be honest, kind, decent and considerate? The facts could be inculcated daily in five minutes or less, and that honesty pays well, that kindness and decency are real assets by whomsoever displayed, and that consideration for others is the best possible means of securing consideration for one's self.

The public schools are America's outstanding bulwark of progress. They have been in the van in making this country great, and they will help to make it still greater in the years to come. A brief daily lesson about fundamental moral principles in which everybody believes can help to further advance this nation on its righteous course. Many teachers now follow this plan anyway, no matter if it isn't in the curriculum. It could fittingly be the activity of all, and the benefits to all concerned would be great indeed.

There's Confusion In Ohio

EARLY reports from Ohio relate that organized labor's campaign to unseat Senator Taft next year already is encountering difficulties.

The prime problem is finding a Democratic candidate who packs sufficient weight to give Taft a genuine fight. Governor Lausche of Ohio, prize vote-getting Democrat in the state, prefers to run for governor again. No other good prospects are in sight.

There also seems to be some resentment developing against the planned invasion of Ohio by the AFL and CIO. This takes the form of the usual resistance to "outsiders."

It is possible, too, that a lot of Ohioans will refuse to accept labor's designation of Taft as the very symbol of reaction. Conservative he may be, but he is no stand-patter. The record is plain: he has fostered and supported public housing, federal aid to education, broad health plans.

The word "reaction" simply does not embrace activities of this sort.

Talk Isn't Cheap

NOT long ago the secretary-general of the United Nations, Mr. Trygve Lie, pointed out that nations must keep their diplomatic agents talking with one another if they are to find effective ways of keeping peace. Surely we can be thankful that U. S.-Russian relations aren't so badly off that we can't even keep the conferences going. A perfect illustration of Mr. Lie's point has to do with the lifting of the Berlin blockade. No one knows what the Berlin situation might be at present if Jacob Malik and Philip Jessup hadn't been able to meet in the lounge at United Nations headquarters and begin the series of discussions which led to the halting of the blockade.

Our American democracy was forged because men were willing to listen to one another's point of view and bring some kind of a compromise into being. If nations ever get to the point where they can't listen to one another's point of view and attempt a compromise that will result in a peaceful solution of problems, then they shall have to answer for the consequences. Man is only too apt to turn to another recourse—brute force.

PREDATORY SEX OFFENDERS (Milwaukee Journal)

In the last four months, four Michigan people, three of them small children, have been attacked and killed by sex perverts. In Detroit alone, recorded minor sex crimes have this year passed 2,800. It is estimated that there were even more such crimes unreported because of shame.

The Michigan populace, shocked and terrified, is demanding that something really effective be done to stop this menace to the innocent. It wants to make its sex psychopath law really work.

We in Wisconsin should realize that what has happened in Michigan may well happen here and that we need a smoothly functioning sex psychopath law just as much as our neighbor state. We need a law which will succeed in getting into custody for treatment even the lesser sex deviates.

It will be recalled that the 1947 legislature adopted the rudiments of such a law. The 1947 statute provides for the segregation of persons found to sex psychopaths and empowers Milwaukee county to receive them when it has the facilities. Milwaukee county, not wishing to receive perverts from all the courts of the state, has understandably not provided a treatment program.

Handling sex psychopaths is a state problem and we need state facilities for the purpose. A bill which would have provided such facilities failed of passage in the 1949 legislature. A bill requiring the state welfare department to designate a reception center for this class of offenders should be passed early in the next legislative session.

If we do not begin to do something about incipient cases soon, it may come eventually that Wisconsin, too, will average one killing per month at the hands of sexually depraved persons.

Europe Faces Tough Future

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington.—The first thing that ECA Administrator Paul Hoffman did when he returned from a strenuous tour of Europe's capitals was to go to the White House. For two and a half hours he talked with President Truman, telling what he had found and what his conclusions were.

In seven capitals in key countries Hoffman had talks with premiers and finance ministers, with foreign ministers and with the Americans directing ECA missions in these countries. It was a solemn, even a grave session between the two men, weighted with the seriousness of Hoffman's final conviction about Europe and the United States today.

He told the president, as he has told others since his return, that far and away the most difficult tasks are still to come. If Western Europe is to build a going economy, then drastic changes must be brought about. Nothing short of a re-shaping of the political and economic map of Europe will suffice, Hoffman told the president.

TWO CHANGES NEEDED

There are at least two essentials in this process. No. 1 is the complete convertibility—in effect the interchangeability—of all European currencies. No. 2 is a customs union for all Europe so that goods will move freely across national boundaries.

These being in Hoffman's view basic steps, it is not hard to understand the air of gravity that hung over the conversation between the president and the director of the rescue operation intended to restore Europe as a going concern. For 17 months Marshall plan aid has been poured into Europe.

Yet the steps toward real economic cooperation have been faltering and timidly tentative. The sideline critics say that ECA has not pushed hard enough, that ECA administrators have not used the stick and carrot technique to prod the European donkey.

But Hoffman is not the type of man to waste very much time trying to assess the blame for the past. Moreover, he believes that drastic change almost never comes except under the pressure of circumstance. When Europeans find they are up against failure and bankruptcy, then with the spur of American help they will move toward real economic union.

The president was sympathetic to Hoffman's point of view. In spite of all the inspired rumors about the ECA administrator's imminent resignation, linked with reported distrust in the White House, the two men get along very well. At the time of these inspired rumors Hoffman at least twice indicated his complete willingness to step aside if the president had any desire to replace him.

AMERICAN LEGION SPEECH

Hoffman found the president concerned over the bitterness stirred up on both sides of the Atlantic in connection with the forthcoming British talks. Stressing the need to create an atmosphere of good will, he told the ECA administration about the speech he was to make shortly at the American Legion convention in Philadelphia emphasizing the need for a friendly approach to try to find a common solution.

Yet in spite of the good will toward the British that Hoffman has found in Washington, there is little or nothing tangible to cope with the dangerous and difficult situation confronting the two nations. All the good will in the world will not suffice.

By an ironic coincidence the crisis in Britain, which is in reality a phase of the unbalance that afflicts all of Western Europe, comes along with something close to a political crisis here at home.

The bi-partisan approach to foreign policy has suffered in recent months. A drop from the record levels of production of a year ago has revived the talk about helping people here at home before we send any more money to Europe.

The ECA administrator has been told that getting ECA's appropriation through congress next year will be very difficult. It took Hoffman, with all his patience, his tact, his remarkable good humor, more than three months this time to get a workable appropriation. A lot of that time was spent in fending off amendments that would have made it impossible to administer ECA. And the appropriation is still not finally approved.

The argument that American dollars can be better spent on the needy here at home is a persuasive one. It links the old isolationist instincts with the idealism of those who are deeply concerned over the underprivileged in this country. What it overlooks, of course, is the fact that this country would be isolated economically, ideologically and militarily if the decision next year should be to retreat. And retreat at this point would guarantee that every cent spent thus far on European recovery was spent in vain.

Cripps was quoted as saying, "The labor government has not the slightest intention of devaluing the pound." Is "devaluing" a legitimate word?—J. C. P.

A. Yes. To devalue (or devalue) means: To diminish the value of or to fix the value of a currency at a low level to which an emergency has driven it.—Webster's.

Rockford: Will you please give the origin and meaning of the name Alaska?—S. W. T.

A. The Alaska Branch of the U. S. Department of the Interior states: "We have been unable to determine definitely the origin of the name Alaska. Some authorities maintain that it is derived from a native word, variously spelled, meaning 'great country.' Others say it is probably a corruption of the Aleut name for part of the Alaska Peninsula—'Alaxsxaq.'"

Jamesville: In a recent column you begin two paragraphs with the word "now." I have always considered this sloppy usage.—Mrs. H. B. H.

A. "Now" as a preliminary or introductory word has always been good usage. You'll find it all through the Bible, in Shakespeare, and in English literature. See, "now," adverb, definition 3, Webster's New International.

An Omen?

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

BACK TO SCHOOL—In most cities the schools have opened their doors for the first time to the 1949 crop of students, while country schools opened earlier.

The teachers and the boys and girls both start the year with some trepidation, not knowing what will be in store for them before the year ends. This is as true for the veteran teacher soon to retire on pension as it is for the neophyte just out of teachers' college, for the child starting kindergarten and the teen-ager in Senior High.

The opening of the school year is a challenge to the good teacher and the good student. They have a responsibility to each other. Only if they cooperate throughout the year can the school system provide another firmly placed step up the stairway of education. Parents also have their place in the pattern of learning. For their attitude and example can assist or harm their children in their school relationships. Parents should be slow to judge and slower to speak, especially in the presence of their children.

CROWDED—For example, parents might well consider the difficulties to be encountered by many teachers in Escanaba's school system this year because of the crowded conditions. Some classrooms have been installed—let us hope temporarily—in grade school basements and auditoriums. The facilities are not adequate as compared to modern school standards.

In other grade schools the number of students in some classes ranges up to a high of over 40 boys and girls. In total the number of youngsters in Escanaba grade schools has increased nearly 300 (from 1368 to over 1600) since 1946. There is every possibility that this total will go higher in the years ahead as the wartime crop of babies comes of kindergarten age.

The crowding will mean that some boys and girls in some grades will have to be transferred to schools other than those they attended last year. This transferring is no hardship to the child. The teaching staff in one school is as good as that in another. Parents should understand that a real necessity exists and that transfers are not based on whimsy.

OPPORTUNITY—When a transfer is necessary parents might cooperate by pointing out to their offspring that it provides an opportunity to make new friends and to meet new teachers in a new school environment. It can do no good to the child to express criticism of the school system.

Children do not like transfers from one building to another. Nor do their parents, reports Supt. John Lemmer. But in some cases a transfer is unavoidable. Transfers may mean that some children will have to walk several additional blocks, but in no case will the distance be objectionable.

NOW THE TIME—School patrons that's another name for parents and other adults who have an interest in school affairs) might consider this an opportunity to examine the future school building program in Escanaba.

The physical inadequacy of some of the school buildings, the need for better classroom facilities, the crowding, the prospect of increased enrollment in the years ahead are a challenge to the school patrons of the community.

ADJUSTMENT—Meanwhile there is, right now, a period of adjustment going on in our schools. The teachers and the students are adjusting themselves to their cooperative responsibilities for another year of educational effort. Vacationtime is past.

Again the parents can assist in successfully bridging this get-acquainted period for their children. Later in the year they will have an opportunity to meet teacher and discuss with her their child's progress. Until then the wise parent will listen to reports from his offspring but refrain from hasty comments. The period of adjustment is difficult enough without the parents acting as umpire.

The delayed reaction on the part of the parents will have its reward. The child will come to better understand his responsibilities as the year goes on and before long he will have been taken into and become a part of, the cooperative activity that is education.

NOSTALGIA—Comparisons have been described as odious. Yet it is almost impossible for parents not to compare the schools they knew—often a one-room affair—with today's modern systems. And it is sometimes difficult for them not to come to the conclusion that the school they knew in their youth was better than those now provided for their sons and daughters.

Let them examine their comparisons carefully, especially removing that veil of nostalgia that covers the recollections of younger days, and they will find that comparisons indeed are odious. For in their youth they had the best educational system of that day, and it cannot be fairly compared with the best in educational systems now. Times have changed and will continue to change. Parents will find they can be most helpful in the present if they do not pass judgment based on sentimental recollections.

Enjoyable Summer

Dear Editor:

Just in case a lot of parents are not acquainted with the excellent recreational program carried on in Escanaba during the summer months, we are taking this opportunity of offering a public thank you. Yes, a thank you to all those whose diligent work, patience and kindness made possible an enjoyable and educational summer for our two boys. Each morning they were eagerly on their way to the park (programs were conducted in various sections of town), to return excited and proud with the useful and attractive articles they had made. There were parties planned, for which the children made all their own preparations, treasure hunts, and supervised group games which is so necessary to proper training.

What a safe and relaxed feeling it was to know our children were in such good care while we went about our day's work.

We sincerely hope this same program, and all other departments of the recreational activities, will be continued every summer.

Grateful Parents.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—About the middle of August I finally succumbed to Mrs. P's erroneous and unreasonable idea that Washington is hot in the summertime and we went to California on an alleged vacation.

Usually I have the excuse of filling the silo to stay right on the farm which is the best place in the world to relax. But by August my resistance against Mrs. P's arguments had completely broken down. In the first place we filled the silo early, using alfalfa instead of corn. In the second place I wanted to see my grandson who lives in California, and who either because of the California sunshine or the fact that his mother requires a lot of 3-cornered accoutrements and trappings for him when he travels, was not inclined to come to see me. So we departed.

Well, we had a nice time in California. I spoiled the baby only a little bit, we met a lot of nice folks, I didn't get too lonesome for the constant ringing of the telephone, and in fact got almost reconciled to leaving Washington—when suddenly the office called up to report on a number of things.

Mrs. P's dog, they said, had had puppies. The kitten had become unhousebroken. The painter who was supposed to redo the kitchen in our absence had got drunk and insisted on working at midnight. Also the bacteria count on the cows went up so high that I will never be able to win any more dairying arguments with Governor Dewey.

However, at least the pigs didn't get out. But, add the office, Gen. Harry Vaughan was also tapping my wires, feeding information derived therefrom to Westbrook Pegler and doing his best to put me in jail. Otherwise, said the office, everything was fine.

VAUGHAN ASKED PROSECUTION
Of course, the fact that General Vaughan was trying to put me in jail wasn't exactly new. He tried to do that rather vigorously once before, at the time I wrote the first columns exposing the amazing Mr. Maragon back in March 1947.

I had then reported that Vaughan and Maragon were as thick as an unwashed syrup pitcher on its saucer, but I didn't realize how really close they were until the good general appeared in the office of the U. S. district attorney in Washington to demand that I be prosecuted for criminal libel.

General Vaughan, it seemed, was irked because I had reported various things about Maragon, many of which the senate committee has since brought out under oath. Among other things, I stated that "he once pleaded guilty of transporting liquor illegally (7/17/20), was three times arrested for disorderly conduct but never prosecuted, once as recently as last Nov. 29, and got into a brawl in the locker room of the Washington Senators where some of the ball players beat him up."

General Vaughan, appearing before the district attorney, claimed this was not true. His "lovable" friend, he said, had been maligned and he demanded prosecution of the guilty columnist.

Mr. Morris Fay, the district attorney, was a little flabbergasted at seeing the top military aide to the president of the United States turn up on an errand of this kind, but he replied that he would be glad to talk to Mr. Maragon.

However, he subsequently made it clear that there had been no criminal libel case brought in the District of Columbia since about the time of the Civil War, and that he had instructions from the justice department to bring none without prior consultation.

This was because, in a criminal libel case, the government of the United States becomes the prosecutor, and undertakes to convict and jail the offending editor or newspaperman without any expense or effort on the part of the party supposedly libeled—in this case Maragon.

VAUGHAN IS PERSISTENT
This explanation, conveyed to General Vaughan, did not dampen his persistence. It merely increased his efforts on behalf of his "lovable" friend.

With the question of prosecuting Pearson referred by the district attorney to the justice department, the good general transferred his pressure higher up, and tried to bulldoze J. Edgar Hoover.

"I thought when orders were given in this government, they were carried out," he stormed.

Hoover told him that his job was to investigate, not to prosecute, and that if orders were given him by the attorney general to investigate the Pearson charges against Maragon, he would certainly do so.

Shortly before this, Vaughan had lifted no audible voice of protest when Maragon violated the customs laws by smuggling perfume into the U. S. A. In fact, Vaughan had continued to give him White House credentials, even though Maragon had used them in attempted smuggling and had wantonly violated their use.

Nevertheless, Vaughan now demanded the prosecution of one who had exposed Maragon's lawbreaking.

FBI INVESTIGATES

And, thanks to Vaughan's persistence, the justice department did order the FBI to investigate. The investigation cost the taxpayers a few extra dollars, plus the time of busy FBI

Don't Worry If You Are Bald

More Advice From Columnist Ruark

By ROBERT C. RUARK

New York—I don't know how you feel about the American Medical Assn., but the boys have rendered me such aid and comfort that I am forced to send them a valentine, out of season though it be.

Your correspondent is one of those lads whose fur-piece is slipping badly. Each year the forehead slides up another inch. Each year the sun beats more painfully on the bald spot on the back of the head. About the only place the hair still grows profusely is on the nape of the neck. This created, for a time, a sense of panic and certain frantic efforts to preserve whatever fluff was non-eroded from the skull. There were the usual ointments and unguents, and, Lord save us all, at one time there was even a brief experiment with garlic, on the advice of some lady who recommended that a spud of that halitoxic herb rubbed on the scalp would frighten the hair into re-growth. No more, though, bub. The AMA has forever delivered me from dull care about hair.

What Causes Dandruff

A committee has announced that there is just nothing you can do about being bald, and furthermore, nobody even knows what causes dandruff. Committee says "neither massage, mechanical devices, hormones, vitamins or any other treatment will regenerate hair lost in ordinary baldness."

The committee says that self-designated scalp specialists, or trichologists, are merely whistling Dixie when they issue prescriptions for the regrowth of dear, departed tresses, which please me no end. I used to worry so hard about not buying all the suggested nostrums that I'm convinced the fretting shoved my hairline back another inch.

Now that I know there's nothing I can do to repopulate my pate with lush locks, I suddenly have an entirely new feeling about hair, or the lack of it. Who needs it? What's so special about hair?

Millions of men shave it off their faces daily, and people allow it to flourish thereon are subject to shrill cries of "Beaver!" When they stride the public streets. Ladies shave it from their legs. Undue hair on the manly chest is regarded as unseemly, by some. Among the lower orders of modern man, such as the Australian aboriginal, the hair sprouts so profusely on the beetling brow that the abbo seems to be peering through a saltbush. Gorillas are hairy. Whoever saw a bald gorilla?

No Shampoo Needed

Among our ladies fair, the smooth, pink skin of the face is greatly admired, and millions are spent, annually, to keep that skin soft, glowing and blemish-free. I see nothing unbecoming about a full, glowing head of skin on a man. This is a sparkling adornment which can be placed in perfect array by a single swipe of the wash cloth. It does not ruffle in the wind, collects neither dandruff nor burrs, and needs no shampoo to keep it tidy.

A small baby is admired by all, when he is as bald as an egg, and nobody knocks his baldness or attempts to trick him out in a toupee. Many great lovers have been bald. Roberto Rossellini is on his last third of hairful head, and he got Ingrid Bergman. Charles Boyer is as shiny up top as a heliograph in full sunlight. Who needs hair to be fascinating?

I imagine a bald dame would be regarded as chic, if the bald ladies went to as much trouble to promote baldness as is spent on selling the girls a fresh deck of outlandish wardrobe every spring and fall. The shape of the average head is not unpleasant. It is sometimes round, sometimes flat, sometimes square and sometimes pointed, but what is wrong with spheres, plateaus, squares and peaks? When they put it into paintings and furniture it gets by as modern design.

I see no reason why the guys with a primeval thatch growing clean down to their eyebrows should sneer at us fellows with the high, intellectual foreheads, the nicely tanned or nicely pink or nicely freckled scalps. A man with hair can buy no more coffee for his dime than a man without. Hair has no bearing on the strength of the arm, the capacity to handle six dry martinis, or the credit rating in Dun and Bradstreet.

Enough, I say, of this inferiority complex about becoming bald. To anything other than a female chimpanzee, us cueballs are probably the prettiest men alive.

A bigger television picture tube has been developed for use in low-cost receivers. It will provide 30 per cent more viewing area than the seven-inch tubes it will replace and will handle a 39-square-inch picture.

Spud Harvest Near In Delta

Growers Fighting New Crop Threat

With the beginning of the potato harvest only three weeks away, Delta county growers are facing a new threat to a crop that is not expected to attain the record yields of last year but will nevertheless be large by normal standards.

The new threat is a considerable infestation of potato fields with plant lice, a sucking insect that attacks the vines and leaves them withered and yellow, according to J. L. Heirman, county agricultural agent.

Heirman advised farmers to spray the vines with parathion a new product on the market but effective in killing the insects. Estimated to be 70 times stronger than DDT, parathion is dangerous to persons handling it unless they use extreme precautions, the county agent added. Avoid inhaling the fumes or having parathion come into contact with the skin. If the latter occurs, the part should be immediately washed.

There is still some active late blight attacking potato fields in the county and spraying to control blight should be continued until frost, Heirman advised.

Even after the vines have been frozen down it is advisable to spray the plants with a vine killer to completely destroy the blight-infested plants that might carry the disease to the tubers in the digging process, he continued.

Growers who plan to use a rotabator to kill the vines should first spray the tops, Heirman said. This spray should be applied a few days before the rotabator is used. The vines should be completely killed a week or 10 days before digging is started.

Climaxing the 1949 potato harvest will be the annual Delta County Potato Show to be held Oct. 27, followed by the U. P. Po-

Reverend Hummon Resigns To Enter U. Of Wisconsin

Rapid River, Mich.—Rev. Serge Hummon, pastor of the Congregational churches of Rapid River, Isabella, Cooks, Garden and Fayette, has submitted his resignation and plans to enter the University of Wisconsin this fall to study for his master's degree in rural sociology.

Reverend Hummon also has accepted a call to the Congregational churches at Arena and Black Earth, Wis., near Madison. He will serve the two churches while attending the university.

After receiving his bachelor's degree from Ohio Wesleyan university, Reverend Hummon attended the Chicago Theological Seminary. His first charge was Hudson, in Lower Michigan. He came to the Rapid River district parish in October, 1945.

Reverend Hummon has been active in rural religious and recreational work in the Rapid River district. He originated the God's Acre program, which has served the dual purpose of improving agricultural practices and raising money to support the churches on the Garden Community. A God's Acre auction will be held at the Fayette township hall on Saturday, Oct. 8, when the produce and livestock pledged by the church members will be sold and the proceeds turned over to the rural churches.

The Hummon family will remain here until a new pastor is appointed.

NAVY PLANE COMBINES JETS AND PROPS—This is the Navy's new patrol plane, the Martin P4M-1 Mercator, first shown to the public at the Cleveland Air Races. The aircraft has four engines but looks like a twin-engine model. Two standard gasoline engines are used for normal flight and the two jet engines, housed in the same nacelles, are used for extra bursts of speed. The Mercator is capable of over 300 miles per hour and carries a load of 830,000 pounds over a 3000-mile range. The Martin Mercator is seen in its first flight over Baltimore, Md.

Arrest Three For 'Shining'

Two Others Fined On Gun Charge

Game law violators had some of the luck they deserve over the weekend.

Start Work On Locker Room

Erling Arntzen Is Given Contract

Ground was broken yesterday for the construction of an addition to the Gladstone high school gymnasium which will house a locker room.

Contract for construction of the unit was awarded to Erling Arntzen, Escanaba contractor, at a special meeting of the board of education Saturday.

Arntzen's bid on the project was $9,394.80. There was one other bid, William Nelson, local contractor, setting a price of $10,143.12 for the construction.

Ernest DeHooghe and John Mallongree, both of Gladstone, are sub-contractors. DeHooghe will do the plumbing and heating while Mallongree will do the electrical work.

The locker room will be built along the north wall of the gym on the western part and is to be of brick construction, matching the building it adjoins, and 18 feet by 52 feet in size.

Tile will be used on the inside. There will be six shower heads and 60 lockers for athletes. The new room will fill a long felt need at Gladstone high school.

Completion of the structure is supposed to be made within 60 days.

June Schatzman Receives Degree

Miss June L. Schatzman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Schatzman of St. Louis, Mo., former resident of this city, was one of two women in a class of forty young doctors who received their D. O. degrees from the Kansas City College of Osteopathy and Surgery at graduate exercises held at Municipal auditorium in Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 2.

Dr. Schatzman, 25, attended Manistique schools and Beaumont high school in St. Louis, during her senior year. She graduated in June, 1942. She received her A. B. degree from Lindenwood College for Women at St. Charles, Mo., in 1946. Dr. Schatzman will intern in St. Louis, Mo.

Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Schatzman and daughter, Lois, attended the exercises.

Plasma Unit Coming Here

280 Donors Needed In Schoolcraft

The state mobile blood plasma unit will be in Manistique on Sept. 26 to replenish the supply of blood plasma, exhausted in Schoolcraft and other Michigan counties.

The mobile unit, which will be set up in the Presbyterian church parlors, will be brought here by the Michigan Public Health service, with the co-operation of the Schoolcraft county chapter of the American Red Cross.

Approximately 280 donors of one pint of blood each will be needed to replenish this county's supply in the blood plasma bank. The mobile unit is in charge of one doctor and two registered nurses from the Michigan department of health, and will be open for two periods, from 1 to 3 p. m. and from 5 to 7 p. m.

Persons wishing to register as donors may fill out the application cards obtainable at the public desks in both banks and the post office lobby and turn them in at the windows of these establishments. Registration may also be made by a phone call to any member of the committee above, or through any of the organizations and clubs in the city. An appointment card will be mailed to each prospective donor registering in advance of the arrival of the unit.

Residents of the entire county are urgently requested to register their names as donors. Every person who donates a pint of blood when the unit is here adds to the blood plasma bank. Every pint is credited to Schoolcraft county, and can be obtained free of charge when needed. The blood that is taken here is sent to the state laboratory in Lansing, where it is processed into plasma and other blood products and is stored for use in this county.

Doesn't Hurt
An individual never knows when he or members of his own family may need plasma, or blood products to be used in an emergency. A person would never refuse to give life saving blood to relatives or friends, and by giving a pint of blood now while the mobile unit is here might well mean the saving of a life dear to the donor. The donation can be as personal as that, yet saving any life is reward enough.

The actual giving of a pint of blood takes only a few minutes, and is entirely without pain or any ill after effects. Any person between the ages of 18 and 50, in good health, who has not had recent major surgery is an eligible donor.

War Surplus Gone
The blood plasma used during the war was collected and distributed by the Red Cross. At the end of the war this program was discontinued, and in the four years that have elapsed since that time, the supply has become exhausted. The need for these products has become so acute that health department has taken over the service and is assisted in recruiting donors by the local Red Cross chapters.

St. Joe Is Host Saturday Night To Gladstone '11'

Gladstone Sept. 7.—The 1949 edition of the Gladstone high school football team and its coach Don Pfothenauer will make their bows Saturday evening when they clash with St. Joseph Parochials at Escanaba under the lights at Memorial field.

It will be the first time in 25 years that Coach Eldon Keil has not been directing the Gladstone gridders.

Coach Pfothenauer has 12 lettermen around which to build his team and it appears that the experienced players will get the nod to start on Saturday.

The line will be big, burly and fairly fast while the backfield will be about average in weight but versatile and fast.

At ends will be towering Phil Creten and Jim Schram, favored for the tackle spots will be Bob Cole and Bill Deveridge while Marvin Jandre and Bill Sundling will be at guards with Stanley Jugo at center.

Larry LaPlant, an excellent runner and passer, will be back at his old spot at left halfback. Capt. Buddy Clark will be at right halfback. Dick Stade will direct the team, do the punting and some of the passing and Ralph McGeary will again be at fullback. Don Pado also will be available for duty at fullback.

This is essentially the team that 'took it on the chin' during the '48 season but never quit regardless of how the score stood, and was battling in the final minute just as hard as at the start of the game.

With the experience and seasoning gained, this season's results should be a little different.

Reserves who may see action include Henry DeMay and Richard Swenson, ends; Jack and Joe Suter, tackles; Harold Froberg and Clarence King, guards; Dick Sidbeck center; Les Young and Jim LaLonde, halfbacks and Pierre LaVelle, quarterback.

Spartans Hard Hit By Hurts

And In Some Cases It Might Hurt

East Lansing, Sept. 7 (P)—Early scrimmage injuries have hit the Michigan State football team where it could really hurt.

Gene Glick of Saginaw, first string quarterback, and Hank Minarik of Flint, veteran end, both suffered knee injuries in a scrimmage yesterday. The pair were taken to the college hospital for x-rays and observation.

Trainer Jack Heppinstall said it was yet too early for a final estimate of the seriousness of the injuries.

Glick and Minarik are the Spartans' best potential passing combination this year. Glick completed 26 of 56 attempts for 692 yards and 11 touchdowns last year. Minarik caught nine passes for 251 yards and four touchdowns.

Big Dave Lumsden, who was looked upon as a starter at center, showed up without a uniform in the afternoon practice after his knee gave out in the morning drill.

Lumsden wasn't hurt in scrimmage but an old injury kicked back on him while he was going through speed drills with the second.

Bob Graves, sophomore quarterback from Royal Oak and Dean Garner, a sophomore guard from Jackson, also were casualties in the rugged morning workout. Graves suffered a minor shoulder injury.

In an effort to take up some of the slack caused by injuries, Coach Biggie Munn has shifted Hal Gasser, of Birmingham, a tackle last year, back to center, and left half Al Durow of Imlay City, a halfback to quarterback.

The injuries pointed up what may be a weakness in the 1949 edition of the Spartans. Although the first stringers, both in the line and the backfield, are experienced veterans, Munn lacks depth for a lot of his positions this year.

And unless he can find dependable replacements for all his first stringers the lack in depth might prove costly against such outfits as Michigan and Notre Dame.

Bo McMillin Still Building Lions; He drops One, Adds One

Ypsilanti, Mich., Sept. 7 (P)—Coach Bo McMillin dropped one player but added another yesterday to maintain a 38-player roster for the Detroit Lions.

Jim Youel, 26, veteran of three seasons in the National football league, was released. Rudy Krall of Gary, Ind., recruit fullback from the University of New Mexico, was added to the squad.

Youel appeared briefly with the Lions last season. In four exhibition games with the Lions this season he has handled the punting assignments. Youel's home is in Washington, D. C.

Krall was a Philadelphia Eagle draft choice released recently. He is 24, stands 5 feet 11 inches and weighs 200 pounds. At New Mexico, he was considered the best punting back in the school's history. His work with the Lions will be confined chiefly to line-backing duties.

Old Timers To Play Cardinals

Exhibition Match Set For Sept. 11

Manistique, Sept. 7.—"Old timers" baseball players in Manistique and vicinity have volunteered to play the Manistique Cardinals in an exhibition match Sept. 11 to raise funds for the Manistique Baseball association.

The game will be played at the Manistique diamond and will start at 2:30 p. m. Bill Norton and Bill DeHutt are managing the "old timers."

Any former baseball player is invited to participate and will be furnished a uniform by the baseball association. Among those who have registered for play are Joseph Griffin of Cooks, Harry Bailey of Grand Marais, Herb McDougall of Germfask, Bill Vassau, Bill Norton, Bob Marks, Harvey Ekdahl, Orville and Mel Chartier, Bud O'Neill, Tony Popish, Jim Holik, "Scrappy" Williams and Bob Harbin.

Tickets for the exhibition match go on sale Friday evening.

Perkins Lighted Field Is Dedicated

Perkins, Sept. 7.—The new Perkins lighted athletic field at the rear of Perkins high school was formally dedicated at a special program on Labor Day. Lights were provided by the Perkins Lions club and Baldwin township.

Highlighting the dedication program were three softball games. Brampton won over St. Nicholas, 8-5, and the Stonington boys defeated Rock, 8-3. In the nightcap, Stonington tipped Brampton, 8-3.

It was a bit chilly but a large crowd witnessed all three games and then warmed themselves up with a chicken dinner served by the men of the Perkins Lions club and American Legion. Three hundred persons were fed at the Community hall, and a dance followed.

On the committee for the big day were Leo Godin, Joseph DeCremer, Walter Nelson and Alex LaChance of the American Legion.

This One Separates The Man From The Car

Detroit, Sept. 7 (P)—The car and the driver that made the fastest dirt track lap in history will be separated in the 100-mile big car race at the state fair here Sunday.

The driver is Tony Bettenhausen of Tinley Park, Ill. The car is a Belanger Special which he spun around the Langhorne, Pa., track at a 108.38 mph clip in 1947.

At the fairgrounds track here, Tony will drive a big car with a midget auto power plant, a rare combination. The car with which he set the record will be piloted by Duane Carter.

'Stique VFW Drubs Oldtimers By 5-0

Manistique, Sept. 7.—The Manistique VFW ball team won a 5-0 victory over the Manistique Forty & Over club in a benefit game for Seb Rubick Monday night. The game was scheduled for Sunday but was postponed because of rain.

At the end of the first inning, Rubick was brought to the pitcher's mound, on crutches, and presented with a coat sweater, gift of the Forty club.

Anderson and Robertson formed the battery for the VFW and Kasun and Harbin for the Forty club.

GLADSTONE GOLF CHAMP—They served youth at the Gladstone Golf club on Labor Day. With the veterans looking on after valiant stands, 18-year-old Billy Rajala, Gladstone senior and captain-elect of the Braves' basketball team, defeated David Olson, 20, of hole-in-one fame, by the score of 3 and 2 to win the 1949 club championship. That's Billy holding the hardware at left and Olson beaming at the right.

Gladstone's Outboard Racers Cop Many Honors

Gladstone, Sept. 7.—Outboard racers of the Gladstone Yacht club did all right for themselves in several race meets over the Labor Day weekend.

In the Top of Michigan marathon, an 87 mile event at Mullet Lake, Mason Meyer placed third while Doug Boucher was within six miles of the finish line when his motor failed.

At Keyes Lake near Florence, Wis., in a Sunday program, Roger Anderson captured the Class A event with Irving DeRock second. In the B event Wimpy Mineau was first with Ronald Martin second and Fritz Pepin third. No local drivers placed in the events for larger motors.

Monday at Lake Michigan the first meet sponsored by the recently organized Upper Peninsula Outboard racing association was held.

Roger Anderson again copped the Class A event with Gordon Elson of Ishpeming placing second and Irving DeRock third.

Gordon Elson of Ishpeming took the Class B race with Wimpy Mineau second and Ronald Martin third. Pepin rolled over as he rounded the first buoy in this race and was eliminated.

In the Class C-D-E, Mason Meyer finished in front with Jack Marble second and Pepper Martin third.

In the Class E open Gordon Elson drove to victory with Jack Marble second and Mason Meyer third. In the Free-For-All Elson again was first with Bob Mann of Milwaukee, the Wisconsin state champion, second, and Marble third.

Baseball Approves Its Bonus Rule

Cincinnati, Sept. 7 (P)—Major league baseball has voted against repealing the bonus rule, the office of Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler announced today.

In a brief statement, Walter Mulhry, secretary-treasurer of baseball, said: "The amendment to major and minor league rule E (F), the bonus rule, on which a mail vote from the major league clubs was requested Aug. 25, failed of passage."

"It Seems To Me"

Strictly cuff stuff: The New York National Guardsmen didn't have their full team here but maybe you noticed that third baseman operate . . . The name is Edward Restiro . . . He tried out with the New York Giants at their Florida camp this past spring and is lined up for another whirl at professional baseball next spring . . . Dick Lough, John Besson, Francis Pryal, Bill Ferrarri, Glenn Meintz, Jack Scherer, Roy Johnson and George LaCrosse, Escanabas all, had themselves some softball and a little fun when they flew to Calumet with the New Yorkers . . . But it was rough on Johnson . . . He came back with a bunged-up knee . . . The same one that bothered him in basketball two years hence.

A disappointing crowd of 3,000 saw the intra-squad Green Bay Packer game in Marinette . . . In case you're interested, Jug Girard's squad defeated Jack Jacobs' squad, 28-7, and Stan Heath played a more relaxed and confident game than he did in his exhibition debut . . . He may be some help this season . . . That is, if you think the Packers are salvageable.

Harry Hogan, Gerald Harris and Billy Rajala are golf club champions in Delta county . . . To this list, add these 1949 champions: Tom Miluehes, Marquette, who beat Bill Connors, U. P. runnerup, in the semifinals; John Glidden, Iron Mountain (Tom Renn lost in the semifinals), and Phil Jacobs, Jr., U. P. runnerup in 1942 to Ishpeming's Stan Anderson, who beat veteran Phil Colasanti in the finals.

The Rainbow league playoff is all-square now . . . Gwinn defeated Negaunee, 4-1, after losing the opener, 3-1 . . . Gwinn won the toss to decide the site of the deciding game . . . It will be played in Gwinn next Sunday afternoon.

The last time we had occasion to write anything about Billy Rajala, Gladstone's new golf champion, was when he quipped at Coach Cappy Keil at a 25-year recognition dinner at the Yacht club: "We should have a better basketball team next year. I understand (a side glance at Keil) we have some pretty good eighth graders coming up." . . . Keil had just lauded the eighth graders.

This was a rough year on defending champions in Upper Peninsula club golf . . . Elmer Swanson bowed to George Marcouiller, one up on the 19th, in a first round match here . . . Vial Smith was clipped, 3 and 2, by Abe Milkovich in a second round match at Highland . . . Gus Dehlin was ousted by Rajala while the latter was en route to the finals at Gladstone . . . Colasanti lost his title at the Soo and Renn lost his at Iron Mountain.

Swanson will remember this year as his year of defeats on the 19th . . . After losing to Marcouiller, things went along fine in championship consolation play until he met Francis Boyce in the finals . . . They had a fine nip-and-tuck match, all square after 18 holes, and then Boyce raps in a long putt for an eagle three to beat Elmo on the 19th.

Eskymos To Open At Sault Friday

With two-a-day practice sessions since August 15 behind them, the 1949 Escanaba high school football aggregation will open its eight-game schedule by journeying to Sault Ste. Marie to battle the Blue Devils Friday night. The game will mark the dedication of Soo's new lighted field.

In the long history of rivalry between the two schools, it will be the first time the Blue Devils and Eskymos have ever met under lights. And in order to acquaint the Eskymos with nocturnal play, Coach Jim Rouman planned to take his charges to Escanaba's Memorial field for a one-hour workout tonight. Memorial has been rebuilt to provide for football and is the home field of the St. Joseph's Trojans, who will play all their home games there at night.

Most of the Eskymos made the trip to Munising to watch Soo and Munising battle to a 0-0 tie last Saturday afternoon. That scoreless deadlock was typical of most prep openers. Each team made mistakes and muffed scoring opportunities.

Mark To Shoot At
Soo will have an edge in that it has that one game under its belt and will be playing at home on its new lighted field. The Friday engagement will be Escanaba's first test of the season, and whether the Eskymos can uphold the school's record in the 17-year rivalry with the Blue Devils remains to be seen.

With only two regulars among six lettermen returning from last season, the Eskymos have their work cut out for them, but the prospect is not too gloomy. It is a foregone conclusion that other schools—with the exception of Iron Mountain and Ironwood—are having their difficulties, too.

The Eskymos can accomplish much toward a successful season by buckling down for a first-rate opening game bid and by eliminating or minimizing mistakes that might be made in that opening.

Six lettermen back from last season are Dick Danielson, quarterback; Pat Farrell, transferred to wingback from end; Bob Paterick, tailback; Tom Nault, center; Jim Chapekis, guard, and Alf Nelson, tackle. Chapekis and Farrell are the only regulars from last year's squad.

Jim Prokos, who has been working at end, is on the sick list and will be out for at least a week. He is in St. Francis hospital with an infected knee.

Working on a first string backfield this week have been Danielson, quarter; Paterick, tailback; Jon Baldwin, fullback, and Farrell, wingback, although the latter has been alternating at end for the injured Prokos.

Another backfield combination finds Buddy Weber, quarter; Jerry Bink, fullback; Bill Hamm, wingback, and Joe Johnston, tailback, and a third combination has been Dick Cota and Sophomore Paul Baldwin alternating at quarter, Vernon McCarthy at full, Tom Smith and Bob Dahlin alternating at wing and Mert MacRea and John Prokos switching off at tailback.

Forward Wall
The first-string line shapes up something like this: Nault at center, Chapekis and Bob St. Martin at guards, Alf Nelson and Jim Nyquist at tackles and Axel Anderson and Dick Shomin at ends. Another forward wall finds Fred Johnson at center, Tom Way and George Rouman at guards, Bob Jensen and Bob Richards at tackles and Tom Schwalbach and Jim Prokos with Farrell alternating at end.

A third forward line combination has Dick Johnson at center, Leslie Desmond, Sophomore Bill Fallmer, Jim Valentine and DeWayne Peterson sharing end duties, John Cloutier, Bob Frazer and Charles Wickman at tackles and Dick Erickson and Jerry Jensen at guards.

Short on weight but long on spirit, speed and aggressiveness. At this writing, that's the story of the 1949 Eskymos.

Tiges To Use Southpaws In 2-Game Tribe Series

Detroit, Sept. 7 (P)—The Detroit Tigers aren't overlooking any fine points of strategy to keep up their winning streak in a long-shot quest for the American league pennant.

Manager Red Rolfe chose southpaw Ted Gray to pitch against the champion Cleveland Indians at Briggs stadium tonight. He also plans to use another southpaw, Hal Newhouse, in the second game of the two-game series tomorrow afternoon.

The wily Tiger manager has a reason for passing up right hander Virgil Trucks, a 16-10 hurler who at first glance would seem the logical choice for at least one of the two games.

He figures the southpaw hurlers will cut down the batting efficiency of three heavy hitting left-handed swingers in the Tribe lineup—Dale Mitchell, Mickey Vernon and Larry Doby. The advantage of a southpaw pitcher over a left-handed batter may be slight, but Rolfe isn't overlooking any of the fine points at this crucial stage of the pennant campaign.

Manager Rolfe declared he didn't take any stock in the theory the Tigers had no chance to knock off the league leaders because the schedule was against them. The Tigers have exactly 18 games to play—twelve of them with the big three, the New York Yankees, Cleveland and the Boston Red Sox.

"I say that is perfect," Rolfe said. "These 12 games are with people we must beat if we are to improve our position. No team can be a winner if it waits for the other guys to knock off the top outfits. It's up to us now. We have beaten off every other team but three. Now we have to beat those three."

Bob Feller is slated to pitch for the Indians tonight before a sell-out crowd at Briggs stadium. Fair weather is expected to bring a 50,000-plus crowd to swell seasonal attendance totals here over the 1,700,000 mark.

The Tigers have won 14 games in the last 16 starts and go into the game tonight with a six-game winning streak.

Canadian Racer Lauds Detroit For Staging Major Boat Regattas

Detroit, Sept. 7 (P)—Harold Wilson says he is going to try again next year to lift the Harmsworth Trophy for speedboats from the United States.

Before leaving for Ingersoll, Ont., yesterday, Wilson declared: "I definitely will submit a Harmsworth challenge for 1950. I expect to make the challenge some time this fall officially. There's no hurry about it as we have until January 1 to issue it. I will not wait that long, however."

The Canadian said he still has confidence in Miss Canada IV despite her failures this year. Miss Canada IV finished a poor fourth in the recent Harmsworth Trophy

Kell Picks Up 8 Points On Williams In AL Hitting Race

Chicago, Sept. 7 (P)—If Boston's Ted Williams is looking over his shoulder in the American league batting race, he will find Detroit's George Kell coming strong. The Bengal third-sacker last week picked up eight points on Thumpin' Teddy.

While Williams skidded six points to .353, Kell inched up two points to .341. The previous week, Williams held a 20-point margin which now has melted to 12.

Kell is Williams' only barrier to a third straight batting crown and Ted's fifth since 1941. Third with .320 is Bob Dillinger of St. Louis.

Boston's Ellis Kinder was the pitching leader with a .783 percentage on an 18-5 record. The Red Sox right-hander acquired two victories during the week. Virgil (Fire) Trucks of Detroit continued to set the strike-out pace with 137.

The batting leaders:

race on the Detroit river.

Miss Canada IV damaged a propeller in the first lap of Saturday's heat of the Silver Cup trophy and was shipped home before the final lap of the race Labor Day.

"Trouble isn't new to me," Wilson said. He added:

"We feel we're near the solution of our problems now. I am disappointed but not disheartened. Remember, I raced Miss Canada III for five years before she ever finished a heat."

Wilson said he liked the way Detroit has put on major regattas this year but he thought it would be a boon to speedboating to award the 1950 Harmsworth to the Pacific Coast.

Picture Taking Day On College Gridiron Is Gruesome Sight

Atlanta, Sept. 7 (P)—Never let your kids go to picture taking day during college football training.

The child may never recover. He'll see 230-pound, six-foot-five monsters diving about, arms outstretched, feet flying.

The unconcerned cameraman in front of the dive isn't worried about himself or the all-American tackle coming in for a rough landing. He's making a picture you'll see in a newspaper Sunday supplement section and the higher the tackle sails, the better the picture.

Another photographer will be two grizzly mammoths butting heads, apparently to see which head is the thicker. Actually, he's making a gag picture which he hopes will make you chuckle.

The most terrifying sights of all are the faces that centers, guards, tackles and line backers make.

But, ugly as they are, they're harmless. They must just look fierce so fans will think they're mean. That's supposed to boost ticket sales.

Yankees Open Vital Series With Boston

(By The Associated Press)

The New York Yankees, leading the American league since the opening gun, face their severest test of the season tonight when they open a vital three-game series with the challenging Boston Red Sox at Yankee Stadium.

Casey Stengel's crippled Yankees lead the sizzling Sox by a game and a half and a Boston sweep would dump the Yanks into second place.

Stengel has selected Allie Reynolds (14-4) to face Ellis Kinder (18-5) before an estimated 75,000 plus crowd. Lefty Ed Lopat is the probable Yankee pitcher for the second encounter and Vic Raschi or Tommy Byrne for the third.

The Sox are expected to counter with Jack Kramer and 21-game winner Mel Parnell.

Reynolds, despite his impressive won-lost record, has had a rough season while Kinder is enjoying the best campaign of his career. Reynolds has completed only four of 25 starts. He turned in his best game last Saturday when he blanked the last place Washington Senators on three singles.

Kinder, who never won more than ten games in the majors until this season, is working on an eight game winning streak.

The return to action of Joe DiMaggio and possibly catcher Yogi Berra greatly enhances the Yankee chances. DiMaggio bowed out of the second game in the Labor Day doubleheader in Philadelphia because of leg cramps but the jolter reported the ailment has disappeared.

Berra, out with a fractured left thumb since Aug. 7, participated in a "pepper game" yesterday. He reported the digit "felt swell and I guess I'll play." The Yogi's big bat will receive a royal welcome.

While the Yanks and Red Sox go at each other the third place Cleveland Indians and fourth place Detroit Tigers will be battling.

The Tigers entertain the Indians in two game series. The Indians trail the Yanks by four and one half games and the Tigers by six and one half.

Meanwhile, the equally tense National league race finds the front-running St. Louis Cardinals only one game ahead of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Don Newcombe, big Negro righthander pitched the Dodgers to within a game of the Red Birds last night as he turned back the Boston Braves, 10-2, at Ebbets Field. The Cards, the Chicago Cubs and the entire American league were idle.

Philadelphia came from behind to beat the Giants, 4-2, in the ten inning opener but Leo Durocher's men took the nightcap, 4-1.

Larry Jansen had the Phils beaten, 2-0, with two out in the ninth when they rallied to tie up the game. Bill Nicholson's single broke it up in the following frame.

What's Your Guess About Wolverines' New Backfield?

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 7 (P)—Observers are laying odds around here on the makeup of Michigan's 1949 backfield.

During daily scrimmage sessions Head Coach Ben Oosterbaan is using that combination with the exception of the fullback position, where he has Dick Kemphorn instead of Dufek.

But Dufek's outstanding work with another quartet, coupled with Kemphorn's defensive abilities, leads spectators to the belief that Dufek will soon be moved up.

While reserving the rugged Kemphorn for play-stopping tackles, such a move would add a running threat deluxe to the Wolverine starters.

Oosterbaan and his staff aren't making any final decision yet — with 15 days of practice left before the opener with Michigan State college.

Sheldon Jones outpitched Hank Borowy in the finals, winning out when his battery mate, Wes Westrum, poled a three run homer in the sixth.

The Cincinnati Reds exploded for four runs in the tenth inning to clip the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-3 under the lights in Pittsburgh.

Farm To Get Face Lifting

Soil Conservation Project At Carney

Scientific know-how and machines will team up in a demonstration on Thursday, Sept. 8 to attempt to undo in one day what years of neglect have done to a Menominee county farm purchased two years ago by a World War II veteran. The occasion is the first soil conservation field day in the history of the U. P. The farm due for the face-lifting is owned by Harry Hanchek, who lives five miles east of Carney.

Thousands of U. P. and north-eastern Wisconsin farmers are expected to attend the demonstrations which will start at 9 a. m. and end at 4 p. m. when General Chairman Lemuel Kline of Ingalls homes Hanchek will have a completely renovated farm. Hanchek is a student at the Veterans Agricultural Institute at Stephenson High school; has a fair start with a dairy herd, but his farm is run down. Promoters of the soil conservation field day hope to give his soil in one day the lift it would require five or six years of Hanchek's individual labor to accomplish.

The field day is sponsored by the Menominee County Soil Conservation District in cooperation with the Stephenson Community School Service Program, a Kellogg Foundation-sponsored venture, and county farm agencies. Lunch will be served at noon by the Future Farmers of America and county veterans organizations will operate a refreshment stand.

Farm implement dealers have promised full cooperation and will send many types of mechanical equipment to the Hanchek farm. The implement demonstrators will be assigned non-competitive tasks and will be asked to complete these tasks on field day. Seventy acres of Hanchek's farm are available for rehabilitation and the acreage affords a good opportunity for many types of soil work. The aim is to leave the farm as completely renovated as possible in one day.

Most of the operations will be familiar to most farmers, but this will be the first time that they have been put together in one package to show what can be done to restore a run-down farm to productivity. The operations will include bull-dozing, mechanical rock picking, plowing, many kinds of seed bed preparation with varied equipment like plows, discs, field cultivators and harrows, etc. The day won't reveal any trick new practices, but will show farmers how they can, with equipment they already own, do a better job in working their soil. The Hanchek farm can be reached from U.S. 41 by driving five miles west of Carney on the Nathan road to the Little Cedar river.
